

The Ultimate Entrepreneurial Challenge
Wednesday – Fall 2026
Professor Len Green

TO: The Students Who Have Successfully Registered

RE: INPUT SHEETS – DUE MONDAY, MAY 4, 2026

Congratulations on being able to successfully register for this class. I am looking forward to an exciting and fulfilling experience with you.

However, know that there could be 100 additional students who are eager to take your spot and are on the Waiting List.

So why is this class unique?

In my class, you, the student customer, have a voice in structuring the class.

By that I mean:

1. You decide on some of the topics we will cover (negotiations, out-of-the-box thinking, strategic challenges, consulting projects, starting a business, etc.)

How would I know what these topics are?

You MUST complete a Student Input Sheet (located in the Pre-Semester Exercise Module on Canvas). This must be submitted by Monday, May 4, 2026.

Please take this exercise seriously and take your time filling it out.

The exercise is informative to me because it will tell me a lot about you and will be the Foundation for the content of this year's class (as stated above).

So, does that mean you will be in the class for the entire Semester?

- 1) No: Remember, getting into this class was only Step #1.
This may not be the type of class you are ready to handle now.
- 2) Each year, 10-20% of students withdraw either because the competition and format are too challenging, they are fired by their CEO or team members, or they are not willing to spend the time necessary to excel in the team case studies.

Yes, you can be fired, as in the real world, if you do not perform well. You cannot coast through this class.

- 3) For example: The homework for a typical 3-hour Babson class is 3 hours. The Winning Ultimate Challenge Teams in prior classes spent 5-6 hours per week on homework and enjoyed it.
- 4) More than 70% of your Team's grade will result from successful Rocket Pitches and Skits.
- 5) This class typically goes from 3:00 pm to 6:30/7:00 pm
- 6) I am still working in the real world. Therefore, be prepared to have "Make-Up Sessions on Fridays and/or Saturdays.

DECISION TIME

So, this is decision time! If you drop out now, it will not be a problem. There are students on the Waitlist to replace anyone who withdraws from the class.

Are you still excited about taking this class? If so, please continue. If not, please drop me a note stating that you have changed your mind about taking this class.

GAME PLAN

Action Step

To start formulating the content of the Fall class, we need you to complete the Student Input Sheet on Canvas and submit it by Monday, May 4, 2026.

I am looking forward to meeting you, challenging you (as you have never been challenged before), and, most of all, learning from you.

So, if you are ready to be competitive, work hard, be a team player, and think outside-the-box, take the time to fill out this questionnaire as accurately as you can and submit it.

P.S. A recent survey showed that of the 2,000 or more of my former Babson students, over 80% are now either successful CEOs, Start-up Entrepreneurs, or have entered Family Businesses; the rest are successful Executives.

Your hard work in this class will translate to the real world!!!